Raymond H. Bayer
Rosary
Class of 1982

Raymond H. Bayer, Jr., Rosary Class of 1982, serves as the Executive Director and Chief Executive Officer of MOHELA, a student loan secondary market and student loan servicer. Ray has been with MOHELA for over 25 years and was promoted to the CEO position in 2006. Ray holds a Bachelor of Science Degree in Business Administration from the University of Missouri-St. Louis, a Masters Degree in Business Administration from Webster University, and a Master in Finance degree from Webster University. Ray lives in Chesterfield Missouri with his wife Christie and two sons Ray and Michael.

Ray's favorite memories at Rosary include music in the morning over the PA system, made from scratch rolls & butter from the cafeteria, and the 1980 state soccer championship (he was not on the team but enjoyed the winning season). Ray believes his ability to complete his college education and successes in the business world all can be traced back to the solid education he received at Rosary including math, business economics, and particularly English and Composition courses. The English and Composition courses proved to be particularly valuable in both college and in business.
